

Save The Date

15th Annual

National Adult Protective Services Association

(NAPSA)

Conference

September 29 - October 1, 2004

Please note the name change (it's not a typographical error!): the National Association of Adult Protective Services Administrators (NAAPSA) has become the National Adult Protective Services Association (NAPSA) to reflect our newly expanded membership that includes all adult protective services professionals.

The main topics for this year's conference will include forensic interviews and exams, improving collaboration with law enforcement, self-determination and APS, and fatality reviews. All your old favorites will be back, too, including Bill Benson and his legislative update, what's new with NAPSA, and the ever-popular Show and Yell

(APS staff and related professionals from across the country will present on various successes. Attendees will also have the opportunity to seek solutions for problems). So mark your calendar NOW and watch for future mailings. If you're not already on NAPSA's mailing list, contact executive director Joanne Otto at joanne.otto@naapsa.org with your mailing address. To join NAPSA, contact membership chairperson Joe Snyder at jsnyder@pcaphl.org.

CALL FOR SHOW AND YELL PRESENTATIONS: If you would like to participate in the Show and Yell session by sharing your successes, watch for submission details in the Save-the Date mailer coming soon. Deadline to submit is August 2, 2004.

Any other questions and/or comments should be directed to conference chair Nyla McCarthy at nyla.a.mccarthy@state.or.us.
